Committee puts final touches to draft ordinance

The Ordinance Review Subcommittee this week continued to work against the clock in preparing a draft site plan review ordinance. The subcommittee hopes to have the draft ready for the Planning Board's consideration next week. While the Planning Board does not have a meeting scheduled until March 11, that board will be asked to meet March 4, as well, in order to expedite the process of getting a site plan review ordinance onto the warrant for annual town meeting, in June.

While the subcommittee continued to revise the provisions for multi-family housing, commercial developments and industrial developments, other parts of the draft document were already in final form.

The purpose of the Site Plan Review Ordinance is stated to be as follows: "Large scale development or major land use change have a profound effect upon the cost and efficiency of municipal services and upon the environment of the Town of Bethel. Unplanned development may result in overcrowded schools and highways, increased costs of municipal services, degradation of the air and water quality, as well as the general health, safety and welfare of the residents."

"The purpose of this Ordinance is to insure an orderly growth of the Town and to minimize the effects of that growth when caused by development, by way of, but not limited to: commercial, industrial, retail or institutional buildings, structures and/or uses, multiple dwellings of three or more attached units, campgrounds and mobile home parks."

Under applicability, the draft ordinance states: "This Ordinance shall apply to all development proposals for new and substantial enlargements and/or alterations of commercial, retail, industrial, institutional and recreational buildings, structures and uses; [and for] multi-family dwellings consisting of three or more attached dwelling units and their accessory uses and structures, campgrounds, mobile home parks, condominium development, hotels, and bed and breakfast establishments and tourist homes."

The ordinance, according to the draft, would not apply to: "construction of detached single-family dwellings and customary outbuildings for the use of the residents thereof; construction of barns, stables, and other agricultural-related buildings; all non-structural uses of land for agricultural or forestry purposes; existing buildings or premises legally established prior to the adoption of the Ordinance unless one or more of the factors described [above] is present; reconstruction of structures destroyed by fire or other acts of God, providing they are re-built on the same foundation within two years."

As the subcommittee continued meeting two nights a week in order to complete its work by the first week of March, some members were beginning to worry that the review process by the Planning Board and the Board of Selectmen might take so long that the proposed ordinance would not be in effect by then.

MSAD #44 DIRECTORS' MEETING

Proposed budget shows 5.7% net rise

Meeting in the library of Tetstar Regional High School on Monday evening of this week, the SAD #44 board of directors approved a budget that would allow the expenditure of $1,492,285 in fiscal year 1988 (exclusive of adult education), and would require that $1,415,168 be assessed member municipalities of the district.

While the gross budget of $1,492,285 represents a 15.77 percent increase over a comparable amount in the current fiscal year 1987 budget, the net amount of $1,415,168 to be raised locally is a 5.7 percent increase over the current year.

The proposed budget, which is scheduled for action by the SAD #44 voters on Wednesday, April 15, includes funding for an elementary guidance counselor, a second speech therapist and a teacher in the area of health/substance abuse. Funds for an elementary art instructor are not included.

The directors also approved a gross budget of $72,330 for SAD #44 Adult and Community Education for fiscal year 1988. Of the approved total, a net amount of $25,230 will be assessed the member municipalities.

The board cancelled the one-hour delayed start of school on Monday, April 6, and approved a restructured afternoon on Tuesday, March 24. On March 24, students will be dismissed at 11:30 a.m. The science teachers of the district are to participate in a NASA science workshop with remaining staff members participating in various non-workshop activities.

Larry Arsenault, Tetstar science teacher, has arranged for a representative from the National Aeronautics and Space Agency (NASA) to spend three days in SAD #44, providing staff and students with a variety of learning opportunities. On March 24, there will be demonstrations and lectures for grades 3 through 6 of the elementary schools in the morning, and in the afternoon.

Impact of proposed FY88 budget on towns

The assessment to the member towns of SAD #44 to fund the local share, $1,415,168, of the proposed $1,492,285 gross budget for fiscal year 1988 would be as follows (with percentage of change (+) from fiscal 1987): Andover, $403,357 (+3.9%); Bethel, $294,740 (+4.89%); Greenwood, $259,221 (+5.07%); Newry, $222,109 (+3.16%); Woodstock, $301,371 (+3.72%).

The local share ($25,230) of the total budget for adult and community education in SAD #44 of $72,330 would be assessed to the towns as follows: Andover, $6,439; Bethel, $4,138; Greenwood, $3,543; Newry, $2,040; Woodstock, $4,115.

Towns of the district are assessed their portion of the local share of the SAD #44 budget by the proportion each municipality's state valuation is to the total.

Bankruptcy hearing held

The often-delayed first hearing in the bankruptcy case of John Prang, d/b/a Locke Mills Marketplace, was held last Friday at the office of the U.S. Trustee, in Portland. The four-hour meeting was attended by Mr. Prang and about 10 of his more than two dozen creditors.

Assistant U.S. Trustee Paulette Parker put Mr. Prang under oath and questioned him about his overseas assets and about cash flow of his business at the Locke Mills marketplace.

Ms. Parker said afterwards she will continue to question Mr. Prang, under oath, at subsequent hearings. "I want to have a much more in-depth review of what their assets are, what their liabilities are, and what their operations are like," Ms. Parker said.

She said the proceedings could finish up in as little as six months before a settlement is reached. She noted, however, that these cases generally take an average of two years. She said it is too early to predict if the unsecured creditors will be able to collect any of the money owed them by Mr. Prang.

Mr. Prang filed for bankruptcy last fall under Chapter 11 of the federal bankruptcy code, seeking protection from creditors in order to reorganize his business operations.

Word of Mr. Prang's business difficulties first came to light last spring, when the Bethel Savings Bank (which sold Mr. Prang the supermarket) organized a meeting of the unsecured creditors to ask them for patience while Mr. Prang settled some financial dealings in California.

Since that time the Bethel Savings Bank has taken Mr. Prang to court, while Mr. Prang has threatened to do the same to the Bethel Savings Bank. U.S. Trustee Parker said negotiations going on between those two parties could have a distinct effect on how much—if anything—the unsecured creditors might receive on their outstanding bills.

The next hearing on the case is scheduled for March 27, at 1 p.m., in the office of the U.S. Trustee.

Health Center announces award winners

The awards committee of the Northern Oxford Health and Service Council announces recipients of awards to be presented at the Health Center's annual dinner to be held on Wednesday, March 18, at 9 p.m. at the Masonic Hall on Chapman Street. The charge will be $4 for adults and $3 for children.

Awards are to be presented in three classifications. The first one is the President's Award and is awarded to that person who in the judgment of the president deserves community recognition. This year the award will be presented to Herb Kittredge for his untiring support to the facility committee, and for the many volunteer hours that he spent both before the Health Center's move to its new building as clerk of the works, and after the move.

The second is the Medical Award. This is presented to a person who has donated volunteer hours in a medical capacity. That award this year will be presented to Barbara Douglas, who for many years has given many volunteer hours to the Northern Oxford Health and Service Council. In addition to serving as its president, she has served on many committees and was responsible for establishing the Medical Loan Closet at the Health Center. The loan closet contains various types of medical equipment which people can borrow when needed.

The third award is the Janet Stowell Award. This award has been named to honor Jan Stowell R.N., a long-time resident of Bethel and a long-time volunteer friend of the Northern Oxford Health and Service Council. This year this award will be presented to Merton Brown. Merton has long been involved in community affairs in Bethel. His contributions have been many. He has served on school committees, the Northern Oxford Health and Service Council and in many other community activities.

Bethel appoints two new police reserve officers

The Town of Bethel has appointed two new police reserve officers. They are Terry Perry and Ricky Osgood.

Mrs. Perry, of Route 2, Bethel, has been a constable matron for the town, following her completion of the two-week course last summer at the Maine Criminal Justice Academy, in Waterville. She scored a 97 out of a possible 100 at the academy, graduating second in her class. She works for Green & McGinn and also holds a temporary job at the Bethel post office.

Mr. Osgood formerly lived in Bethel; he now lives in West Paris, where he conducts a horse-training business. He will attend the academy in the spring.

Police Reserve Officer Crawford Perry has not been on patrol lately as he has taken a full-time job with UPS. Police Reserve Officer Norman Clanton is on a leave of absence, according to the town manager.

Snowmobiling at all-time high

Snowmobiling has hit an all-time high in the Bethel, Greenwood, Woodstock area this year, thanks to a few die-hard snow lovers that took the sport through the hard years.

When the so-called gas shortage hit the sport in 1973 it hit a crippling blow. Then inflation hit and the price of a single cylinder snowmobile went from $700 to the present price of $1,500.

During these bad years from 1973 to 1981 the Bethel Snow Twisters and a few die-hard snow lovers hung on.

Then came a small group from Greenwood and Woodstock that formed Greenstock Snow Sports.

The two clubs along with Bethel and Greenwood groomers maintain 97 miles of trails.

This year B&G Groomers was formed to help take up some of the grooming that the Bureau of Parks and Recreation wanted done to link New Hampshire, Fryeburg, Norway, Bethel, and to the Interstate Trail System located in Newry which is I.T.S. #2, and maintained by Windy Valleys Snowmobile Club in Newry.

Main Artery Trails now run from Norway north to Akers field in Newry, I.T.S. #2.

West Paris west to Rt. 13, then north 4 miles to new trail going west to Songo Pond, Crocker Pond, Evergreen Valley, Evans Notch, and New Hampshire.

These super trails are groomed early in the week to let them set up for the heavy traffic they will get the following weekend.

Approximately 100 man hours per week are required to maintain the 97 miles of trails.

Greenstock Snow Sports has its own grooming equipment, while most all

JV girls finish successful season

The Telstar girls' junior varsity basketball team became the first winning girls' basketball team in Telstar's history. They finished the season with an 11-7 record.

Included in the loss column were two games that were lost in overtime and one game that was lost by a single point scored at the buzzer.

The team was led by sophomores Beth and Brenda Taylor at guard, freshman Kristen Cushman and sophomore Jennifer Hutchins led the rebounding and Jerry Beth Hannon, Sheri Nichols and Jessica Kallajian added support to the rebounding and defense.

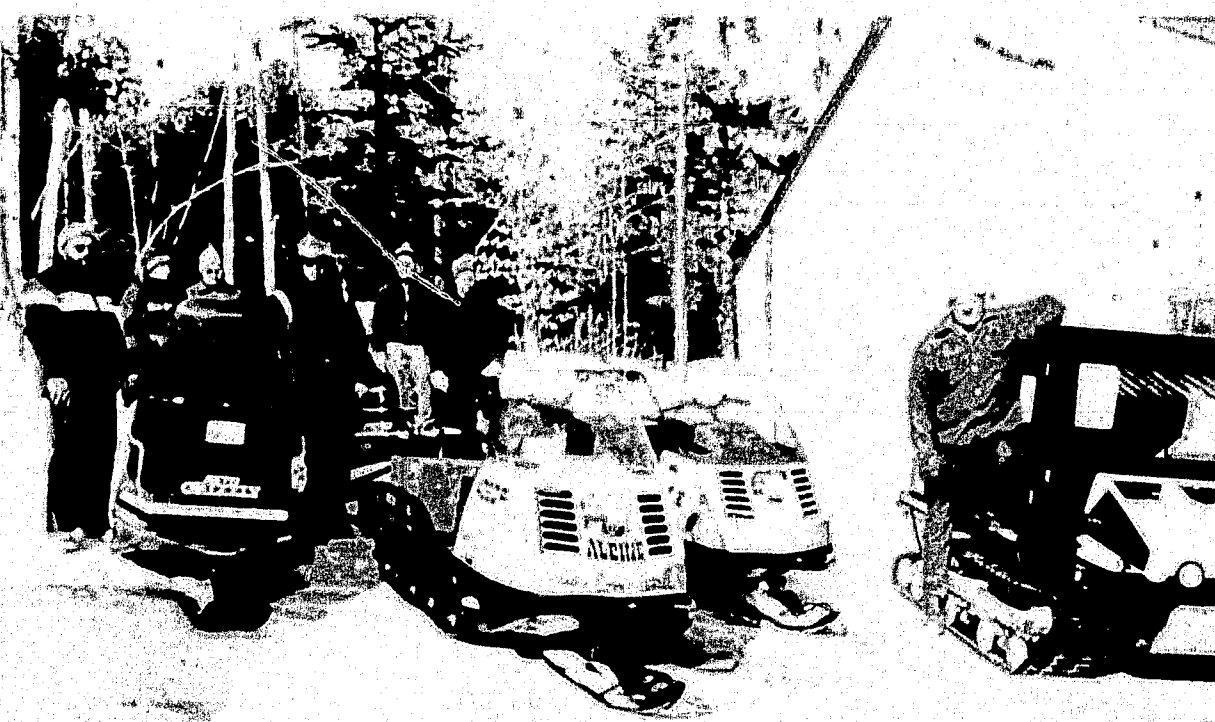

Brenda Taylor led the team in scoring, with 146 points, for a 8.6 per game average. Jennifer Hutchins followed, with 117 points and a 6.9 p.g.a. Jennifer also led the rebounders, with a total of 309, for a 17.2 average. Kristen Cushman added 180 boards, for a 10.6 p.g.a.

others own their own equipment, having a set trail or area to groom, brush, and sign.

Grooming is done usually after sunset when temperatures are colder to allow the snow to set up properly.

Presently when grooming the men travel as far as West Paris, Norway, Shagg Pond, Crocker Pond, and the Sunday River Access Road, keeping in contact by radio with Arlene Hayes on Bird Hill, in case of trouble or breakdown.

This sport wouldn't be without the previous permission given by the many landowners that let the snowmobilers and equipment travel their land. Thanks again to the landowners of Albany, Bethel, Greenwood, and Woodstock.

Thanks also to the personnel of the White Mountain National Forest and especially Rick McVey who has worked many long hours on his own to make this all possible. Submitted by George Hayes

Women eclipse men in taking to the slopes

The sport of alpine skiing has traditionally been dominated by men. Women either stayed home or, at best, journeyed to the ski area with their husbands to watch the kids in the base lodge as their mates took to the slopes.

This long-standing trend seems to have been reversed at Sunday River Ski Resort. Statistics gathered from Sunday River's Guaranteed Learn-to-Ski-in-One-Day program show that 60 percent of the participants so far this season have been women. In 1984, 60 percent of the participants had been men.

For the 1986-'87 season to date, 2,728 women have learned to ski in the program, whereas only 474 learned to ski at Sunday River skiway during the entire 1983-'84 season—the year before Guaranteed Learn-to-Ski was introduced.

Rick Hodas, Sunday River Ski School director, believes the industry has experienced a revolution in creating opportunities for women to ski. Some of the changes are:

• Ski areas once marketed a rugged ski experience. Ski resorts now market a family ski vacation experience.

• The growth of the on-slope condominium as a home away from home in the mountains has displaced the traditional hotel room. Condominiums provide much more comfortable, economical accommodations for a family.

• Skier services have improved, such as nursery and day care facilities. Mom can now leave the youngsters for a day in a warm, bright, safe atmosphere, making her day as well as the children's day, more pleasant.

Erica Stover, supervisor of children's programs at Sunday River, adds that more women are learning to ski as pro-

Health Center to offer hospice training program

The Bethel Area Health Center will be conducting a training program for volunteers to work with Androscoggin Home Health and Health Center personnel in caring for terminally ill patients in their homes.

The training program consist of 21 hours of class work that includes learning about death and dying, communication skills, terminal illnesses, spiritual care, the grieving process on several other subjects.

Duties that volunteers might be asked to do include sitting and listening to patient and family, reading to patient, running errands, getting a prescription filled or fixing a light meal.

A hospice presentation will be held on Tuesday, March 10, at Telstar Regional High School. William Taylor, M.D., and Jan Stowell, R.N., will address the needs of the terminally ill in the Bethel area and a video tape of hospice programs will be shown. This presentation will be held both for those who want general information on the hospice program and those who believe that they may want to train as hospice volunteers.

Men and women who are willing to take part in this program must fill out an application form and receive proper notification in order to participate in the training. Most of the classes will be taught by Jane Craig, hospice coordinator at Androscoggin Home Health with some outside instructors.

For more information please call Muriel Whitney at 824-2193.

15th annual Langlauf citizens' x-c race/tour Saturday, March 7

The 15th Annual Langlauf Citizens' Cross Country Race/Tour will be held on Saturday, March 7, at 10 a.m. at the Sunday River Ski Touring Center.

This year's event is organized for the general touring public without any racing experience, as well as those faster skiers with a strong competitive edge. Three courses (5 km., 15 km., and 30 km.) can be skied depending on distance chosen by the individual. The awards ceremony which follows will include a prize table, where all skiers entering will bring a small prize and the winners of several divisions will get first choice at the table. Registration is from 8 a.m. to 9 a.m. so skiers can receive course information. Applicants must attend the pre-race meeting at 9 a.m. at the Sunday River Ski Touring Center.

For more information and entry applications contact Steve Wight at Sunday River Ski Touring Center, 824-2410.

IMPACT ON TOWNS

The total state valuation of the member-towns of SAD #44 is currently $152,051,000, while a year ago it was $140,650,000. This represents an increase of 7.95 percent.

Andover's valuation showed the smallest increase of SAD #44 towns going from $38,200,000 a year ago to $38,650,000, an increase of 1.18 percent. The largest increase was experienced by Newry, increasing 37.74 percent, from $12,250,000 to $16,850,000. Other towns' increases were: Bethel, 6.31 percent, from $45,950,000 to $48,850,000; Greenwood, 7.3 percent, from $19,850,000 to $21,300,000; and Woodstock, 5.93 percent, from $23,600,000 to $25,000,000.

As a result of the changes in the state valuations of the municipalities each town's share of the net SAD #44 budget has also changed.

Newry's portion of the total assessment is now 12.002 percent, while a year ago it was 8.497 percent; Andover, 25.419 percent (27.121 percent a year ago); Bethel, 32.127 percent (32.823 percent a year ago); Greenwood, 14.008 percent (14.093 percent a year ago); Woodstock, 16.441 percent (16.775 percent a year ago).

[Editor's Note: The percentages in the previous paragraph were calculated from state valuations of the two-year period rounded off to the nearest thousand and may vary from official figures. These percentages were utilized in the break-down of the local share of the adult and community education budget.]

ed ordinance would not get onto this year's town meeting warrant.

Some members expressed a sense of urgency in getting the ordinance approved and on the books before Bethel becomes even more developed.

Town Manager Rodney Lynch said it is possible the two town boards will not finish reviewing the draft in time for town meeting. In that case, he said, he would suggest a special town meeting for consideration of the ordinance.

The Dec. 16, 1986 letter announcing the selectmen's wishes to appoint such a subcommittee states that the subcommittee will have "the responsibility for developing a recommended land-use plan as stated in the adopted 'Town of Bethel Comprehensive Plan 1986.'"

In a Jan. 7, 1987 order appointing the committee members, the town office ordered the committee to address development of multi-unit housing—as well as industrial and commercial structures. The subcommittee was told to have their draft to the Planning Board for them to review and pass to the selectmen "for placement in the town meeting warrant." Which town meeting was not specified.

Town Manager Rodney Lynch said he and the selectmen have been very impressed by the work being done by the subcommittee, particularly the members' dedication to preparing a thorough draft in a very limited time.

SAD #44 DIRECTORS MEET

In other action, the board awarded the bid for printing 2,700 copies of the annual district report to the Oxford Group of Norway at a price of $1,035.84. Other bidders were: Citizen Press, Inc., Bethel, $1,625; CopySet, South Paris, $1,663; and Western Maine Graphics, Oxford, $1,936.

The directors approved the re-installation of four doors in the toilet areas at Telstar Regional High School: one in men's area adjacent to the gymnasium; one each in two middle school areas; and one in a high school area.

The warrant for the annual district budget meeting was approved by the directors. The meeting is scheduled for Wednesday evening, April 15, at seven o'clock in the auditorium at Telstar Regional High School.

Tabled until the March 9 board meeting was any action concerning substitute teachers.

Board members not present Monday evening were: John Foster, Andover; Rick McVey, Newry; and Debra Poland, Woodstock.

The next regular meeting of the SAD #44 board of directors is scheduled to be held at the Andover Elementary School at 7:30 on Monday evening, March 9.

Gould parents take to the woods

On Valentine's Day weekend, eight Gould Academy parents, one friend of the school, two staff members, and two Hurricane Island Outward Bound instructors ventured out into the coldest weather the area has seen this year to experience, in part, what all Gould juniors and one-year seniors encounter during an eight-day adventure in early March. The Academy's Four Point Program provides an opportunity for each class to take on a project in experiential education, which Headmaster Bill Clough believes integral to the whole process of learning. The junior "point" is an Outward Bound winter mountaineering course, supervised by both Gould Academy faculty and Outward Bound instructors.

Bill Clough, Lorenzo Baker (Gould's director of summer school admissions), and Jeffrey Parsons (director of the L.L. Bean Outward Bound Center, in Newry) initiated the parents' program last year, all three believing that in order for parents to have a true sense of what their kids experienced in the winter woods, it would be necessary for them to take the woods as well. The shared experience also provides a common ground on which parent-child relationships often improve as a result.

In temperatures that never rose above zero, and plummeted to 26 degrees below on Saturday night, the group decided to climb to the top of Sunday River Whitecap, a 3,400-foot mountain just south of Old Speck, in Grafton Notch. They started their trek into Miles Notch on Friday afternoon, at 2 p.m., and reached their objective late Sunday morning, attaining the summit in 20-degree below-zero temperatures, with winds gusting to 40 knots.

Outward Bound courses are not designed to teach survival, camping, or mountaineering skills, though participants learn a great deal in the process. The Outward Bound experience is more a philosophy and way of living than a course of instruction. Outward Bound uses the wilderness as a teaching medium wherein both youth and adults come to appreciate sensible self-denial, compassion for others, and the willingness to tenaciously pursue difficult goals.

Three parents had taken the trip last year, under weather conditions much less threatening. Alan Burnell, of Harrison, father of Courtney '89; John Moorhouse, of Amherst, N.H., father of Molly '86 and Jake '89; and John Todd, of Bethel, father of Lisa '88 and Robby '90 were enticed to return because of positive experiences the year before. First-timers were David Palmer, of Newton Highlands, Mass., father of Jim '88; Neil and Jean Coleman, of Westport, Conn., parents of Scott '88; Doug Parsons, of Hyannisport, Mass., father of Jared PG; Owen Lasker, of North Conway, N.H., father of Shawn '87; and Fred Wurlitzer, of San Francisco, Calif., father of Arnisha '87. Though not a parent, Kirk McWilliams, of Rome, Ga., a long-time friend of the school, learned of the opportunity and eagerly signed up. Rounding out the group were Gould staff members Lorenzo Baker and Sylvia Harington, along with two long-time Outward Bound professionals, Jeff Parsons and Saranne Taylor.

The most challenging aspect of the trip was keeping warm. Without high winds, even temperatures as low as 26 degrees below are not difficult to cope with as long as one has proper clothing, the right kinds of food, plenty of water and good common sense. With the threat of frost nip caused by wind-chill, however, one must exercise greater care. Recognizing the early signs of hypothermia and taking action will prevent frost bite, unconsciousness, and eventual death. Uncontrollable shivering, light-headedness, numbing of the extremities all point to danger. All of these are avoided by staying dry, properly clothed, well fed and hydrated. Brisk exercise often returns warmth to the body, and eating a diet of foods laden with fats and carbohydrates helps as well, especially in the early morning hours while encased in a sleeping bag. Munching on a peanut butter ball made with flour, butter, carobs, raisins, nuts and sugar shoots about a thousand calories into one's system when daylight is still hours away. The resulting warmth is incredible.

If there was a central focus to this wild adventure, it was the commitment of each member to a common goal. There were many who would have not individually chosen or attempted to put up with the cold or reach the summit. The magic of the experience was that each person did, in fact, take on the challenge and conquer a pretty imposing mountain, with the help and commitment of the others.

Why do men and women climb mountains, go deep into the sea, or sail alone around the oceans? Jeff Parsons read a passage from Rene Daumal's book "Mount Analogue," which translates into a powerful philosophical notion: You cannot stay on the summit forever; you have to come down. So why bother in the first place? Just this: What is above knows what is below, but what is below does not know what is above. In climbing take careful note of the difficulties along your way; for as you go up you can observe them. Coming down you will no longer see them, but you will know they are there if you have observed them well.

There is an art in finding one's direction in the lower regions by the memory of what one saw higher up. When one can no longer see, one can at least still know.

Clearly, the weekend's effect will take on long-term significance and may even entice some to return next year. One certainty is that the Gould parents who braved the cold will share some very special common ground with their children.

Submitted by John Todd
Note: There is a request for funding currently in the works which, if granted, will provide opportunities for wilderness experiences for the students of SAD #44.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Albert (Pete) Silver is so grateful for kindnesses shown in our recent bereavement. Katherine and Michael Emerson, children of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Emerson Jr., visited a few days of their school vacation in Old Orchard with their sister Tracey Emerson.

Mrs. Rex Thurston and sons Danny, Jon and Kurt left Saturday from the Portland Jetport for Chesapeake, Va., to visit her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Humphrey and Melissa during the school vacation.

Mrs. Elaine Morton and Mrs. Pam Charlier were injured in an auto accident on Route 5 on Saturday on their way home from work at Sunday River Skiway.

Mrs. Grace Simmons and Mrs. Jarnay Meehan spent the weekend in Kittery visiting their sister Mrs. Edna Hilton and family. Mrs. Hilton returned with them for a visit.

Darwin (Jim) and Barbara Adams celebrated their second anniversary in January with a trip to Quebec where they had spent their honeymoon. Upon returning to a favorite restaurant they learned Jim was sitting in the same seat as John F. Kennedy had when she and the Canadian prime minister's wife had visited the restaurant. The owner gave Jim a picture showing them at the same table.

Mrs. Wayne Kerchner, Lisa, Beth and Chad of Wellesley, Mass., have been spending their school vacation at the Dresser homestead on Main Street and enjoying skiing at Sunday River Skiway.

Frankie Emerson and son Forrest of Andover, Mass., visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Emerson Sr. on Tuesday. Forrest stayed to visit his grandparents the rest of the week.

Mrs. Elizabeth Swan and Mrs. Alice Jodrey are patients at Cozy Inn Nursing Home.

Miss Cindy Birch of Brandon, Vt., visited Miss Karen Swan of Rumford over the weekend and they visited Mr. and Mrs. William Swan on Sunday. Greeters at the First Congregational Church were Alys Parsons and Roberta Learned on Feb. 15. Rev. Marjorie Churchill's sermon topic was "Jesus, Lord of All." Wednesday at 10:30, Clergy meeting in Norway; 6:30, Christian Life and Witness in CEB. Friday is adult choir practice at 7 p.m. and Saturday there is a food sale at Mills' Market at 10 a.m.

Many of the young people have enjoyed skiing at Sunday River Skiway all week. Mrs. Len Kersey's name was omitted from the list of guests at the retirement and birthday party for Mrs. Helen Chase.

Many from town attended the Ice Capades in Portland on Thursday.

Joel Putnam of Van Nuys, Calif., and Penny Percival of Deerfield, Mass., have been spending a few days visiting their grandmother, Mrs. Gertrude Percival. Miss Angela Percival of North Andover was an overnight guest on Saturday of her grandmother.

As usual I hoped the virus would peter out before it got to my nook, but, as usual, I got zapped.

There's some comment about Oral Roberts' prophecy or bid for money whenever it may be.

Some comment is scornful, some jokes are funny and light-hearted. There was likely a lot of that in Noah's time, and while this may be in the category of past end-of-the-world prophecies God does do some weird things like having a man build a huge boat far from the shore with no transportation to the sea.

Weather is mostly dry and sunny, but rather cool.

Ed Brennan had a stress heart attack following a bout with the flu, and was taken to Berlin hospital where he stayed in intensive care for a few days. He is expected to be home within a week.

Esther and Olive Davis were in Lewiston Monday on business. They also attended the historical society supper at Bryant Pond Friday night. Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Hathaway attended the supper also.

Feb. 11 was a gala day for me. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Goldsmith and two girls, Daphne and Julie, called on me in the evening, bringing me a beautiful pink rose in bouquet and other gifts with cards. Lettie and Carl Brooks made a dooryard call bringing me a delicious custard pie and gifts with cards. Friday Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Andrews were over from Bridgton with more gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brooks and I attended Grange meeting at Bryant Pond Monday night.

Notes from the Woodstock Historical Society

Here is the story of a gift to a lady years ago—

"Inside the wrapping paper was a box, and inside the box was a folded fan. She lifted it out and spread it carefully in her two small hands—a French fan printed on silk in the manner of Fragonard, with a rose-clad lady bestowing coquettish fingertips on a bowing youth in blue knee breeches, a skirted coat, and a sword. Both wore their hair powdered and they stood in a classic grove with a broken column and a marble bench beyond. The colors were fresh. The sticks and guard were mother-of-pearl, pierced and gilt. She loved the present."

AGNES GRAY STUDENTS head out for various Klondike towns during Klondike Day, just prior to winter vacation. At each "town," the "town mayor" would quiz the teams, giving them "gold nuggets" for correct answers.

Agnes Gray School

By MARTA CLEMENTS

We're back from vacation and rested and ready to get back to work. The only news I have to report this week is the results of the Klondike Derby, which was held the Friday afternoon before vacation. In case you missed my description of the Derby, I will tell you briefly what it is all about. It is an outdoor event loosely based on a Klondike gold rush. Teams from grades 2-6 follow a map, not for hidden treasure but from town to town to answer questions. Answering questions correctly earns the gold. The winning teams from each grade are the ones with the most gold. In case of a tie, the team with the fastest time wins. All participating students receive a Klondike certificate and the winning teams win a Klondike button/pin. This year's pin was designed by Andrew Merrill, Grade 6.

Grade 2 teams were: Cole's Ice Creams, composed of Emily Cole, Hope Lovejoy, Chad Chase and Jason Eastman; the Captains, composed of Lucas Hiebert, Alicia Buntot, Leon Billings; the St. Bernards, composed of Joshua Dunham, Angie Waterhouse, Jonathan Morgan, Alicia Coolidge; the Huskies, composed of Tunny Farrar, Katie Buehl, Jason Hill, Amey Coffin. The Captains were the winners.

Grade 3's teams were: Walton's Way, with Katie Walton, Kevin Hutchins, Jodi Gilpatrick, Jonathan Haas; Woodworth's Leopards, with Liberty Woodworth, Charlie Billings, Austin Hayes, Heather Edwards; Braden's Express, with Jason Braden, Andy Bolstridge, Tanya Rosenberg, Willo Andrews; Wind Tiger Robertson, with Darcy Robertson, Erin Small, Renee Pratt, Carrie Cole, Chester Beauchese, Braden's Express won.

In Grade 4, the teams were: Tony's Tigers, with Tony Bouchard, Vivi Beauchese, Missy Andrews, Beth Hutchinson; Heather's Hedgehogs, with Heather Brown, Tammy Montminy, Chris Tripp, Jesse Eastman; Adam's Ants, with Adam Buntot, Alan Lovejoy, Jason Cohen, Jessica Blake; Kenny's Snow Bandits, with Kenny Hill, Milan Robertson, Andrew Leach, Jay Henderson, Arthur Campbell. The Snow Bandits came through.

In Grade 5, the teams were: Jacqui's Jokers, composed of Jacqui Beauchese, Emily Kirchberg, Andrea Pratt, Doug Penley; Jara's Jackpots, composed of Jara Ginski, Danny McLaughlin, Becky Abbott and Becky Blake; Adam's Assassins, composed of Joshua Adams, Rusty Dolleman, Stacy Dean; Walton's Barbarians, composed of Joshua Walton, Christopher Coolidge, Daniella Westleigh, Rachel Abbott. The Assassins were tied with a perfect score and won on the basis of the best time.

Grade 6 teams were: Polaris, with Justin Wornell, Brian Stinson, John Edmunds, E.J. Nye; Merrill's Miraculous Marys, with Andrew Merrill, Wendy Lary, Amy Tikander, Todd Bouchard; the Golden Eagles, with Shawn Dexter, Jennifer Ruokola, Rjiah Newell, Mike Lackey. Merrill's Marys performed the miracle and won.

The mayors, stationed at each town, did a super job checking maps and questions. They were: Darrin Emery, Todd Guilford, Laura Hall, Stacey Smith, Donny Ferris, Diana Poland, Heather Newell, Jerry Billings, Amy Small and Shelby Robinson. Also many thanks to all the teachers and volunteers who arranged their schedules to be with us to help.

By VIVA WHITMAN

Another week has rolled by and a pretty good one at that. It was cold, but at least no snow to have to shovel or plow. The sun is shining this morning and looks like another good day ahead of us, weather-wise.

I have started helping my foster daughter with some school work recently and she was here a week ago tonight for help. I had told her I would help in any way I could and be glad to. She had trouble getting the education she needed in school so am glad she is trying to improve on it now. It can't hurt any.

Went to North Brattleboro last Friday to the doctor's, and in the afternoon had an appointment downtown to keep. Had picked my bag ready to go down to my daughter's in the morning and lucky I did as she came right after we got into the house from my afternoon appointment. Got my things loaded into her car and she was off.

She had to be gone Friday night and again on Saturday so Grandma did some baby sitting. Came home on Sunday and Courtney brought her things along to stay for a couple of days in hopes that her cousin, Eva, could come down at the same time. Eva's mother, Darnita Taylor, called and asked what days I wanted Eva to come and when I told her Courtney was already here and that she could bring Eva; it didn't take long to get things together and about an hour later the girls were together to sleep overnight and play together for the first time. The bunk bed was the highlight for Eva as she hadn't slept in one before, as I understood. They were excited and couldn't get to sleep good until I had down side of Courtney and told them to be quiet and go to sleep so they could have a good day together on Monday. They were so... asleep and so was I. Woke about 11 and got into my own bed for the remainder of the night.

Monday night was to be Grange so I wanted the girls to rest in the afternoon, but it was hard for Eva to go to sleep. However, Courtney went to sleep for a nap and later on Eva crawled onto my bed and had a nap. She was more tired than she realized. We all went to Franklin Grange and the girls were real good for me. They drew pictures, letters and Eva, being older and in school, wrote her whole alphabet. I took along paper and pens as well as books to have them to read. They enjoyed the exchange of valentines the best as they got some plastic boxes shaped like hearts with chocolate waters inside. Also had other candy given to them, and then, after the meeting, the refreshments tasted good to them. I don't mind taking children with me as long as they are good and mind, and the girl did.

When they got up on Tuesday morning, I was ready for them and they wanted to take a bath and wash their hair so that's what we did. I had kangaroos and don't know what all they thought up during the

The Universalist Church board meeting will be held at the manse on Wednesday, Feb. 25, at 7 p.m.

There will be a food sale on Saturday, Feb. 28, at the bank room, beginning at 10:30 a.m. This will benefit the Universalist Church.

The Firemen's Auxiliary will meet on March 2 at the fire station meeting room. Mr. and Mrs. Sayward Lamb spent the past weekend with their son Ronnie and Donna Lamb in Sebec.

Mandy Morse of Oakland returned home Thursday night after visiting with her grandparents Sayward and Cynthia Lamb since Sunday.

Joseph and Anna Beane, Oxford, took turns visiting their aunt and cousins, Kim, Walter, Vernie and Walter, Jr. Inman, during vacation week. Vernie spent a couple days in Oxford with his aunt Mary Beane and family.

tenoroon but they both have good imaginations so they kept busy. Wynona came about 11 with Kariann and left her while she took a good friend out to a birthday lunch. She got back about two and Darnita was to come about that time but was a half-hour late getting here. The older girls had a chance to visit for a short time before taking their children home. Darnita had her other little one with her. The baby is about 10 months old and a cutie. It must have been 3:30 or so when Wynona and girls left and Darnita and girls left a few minutes after. What quiet there was around the house and I must admit, I enjoyed it, even though I was glad to see everyone.

Something happened and my back went out of place. I thought I was going to see Dr. Shedd this morning, as Dr. Jealous is off teaching somewhere, but got a call cancelling my appointment and had to call on Dr. Waite to put my back, back into place. One hip had gone above the other so I wasn't in very good shape to do much and didn't. Still have to be careful or it catches in there and hurts like sin. That's the way my good old back is. Dr. Jealous says he didn't know what I did while growing up but sure did a job on my back for it to act as it does. I told him to think of treading hay when very small, raking hay behind the hay wagon, harnessing horses before I could hardly reach, cleaning out barns and working in gardens and everything else that went along with being on a farm. I did my share of all those kinds of work and it was no easy job to take wood from the saw when father sawed wood. Such big logs to cut up and so heavy for a girl to handle. Those were the good old days.

Anyway, I sure did a lot of different things whether it was girl's work or boy's, and so did the rest

Mrs. Carolyn Heino and her sister, Mrs. Geneva Millett, visited their grandmother, Mrs. Bertha Leonard, at Ledgeview, West Paris, Friday.

Mrs. Mary Grover transported the elderly citizens to the St. Valentine's dinner given by the Deacons of the Church Parish at the North Waterford Church Vestry. It was a rough day to get out in but there were many there. The Rev. Miss Taylor brought Mrs. Ona McAllister of South Paris. We were all glad to see her. They served a lovely dinner and the St. Valentine's table decorations were most attractive. Everyone enjoyed it and thank the Deacons very much.

Peter Lombard went to Bethel one day last week.

Eric and Troy Nelson, of Norway, visited with their father, Albert Nelson Jr., over the holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grover are announcing the birth of a baby girl. This is their second child.

Mrs. Neil Littlefield, of Florida, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Vail. "Grampa" Vail remains very ill.

Mrs. Sue Bartlett, the health nurse, was in town Thursday.

I can tell you that I took it easy yesterday as I could hardly walk. Still hurts but is some better today, after treatment. I did write a letter or two while sitting around yesterday and knit some on a pair of mittens but not much more.

Helen was here again for help last night and we spent about an hour working on school work that she needed to do. I enjoy helping her and hope it helps her get ahead faster.

Haven't seen any of our squirrels the last few days. Don't know where they are but, as Russell says, all he can do is put out the corn and they have to come to get it. There are a few this morning and a mourning dove or two as well as a blue jay once in a while. He said there was a red squirrel out there, also. Don't see him too often but once in a while one or two show up.

Don't forget that West Paris Grange will be having another dance the first Saturday of March with a door prize for some lucky person. They plan to keep this up for a while, as I understand it. The door prize helps to make it interesting for those who come. Mary told me the last dance was a good one and they had lots of fun, so come and join in.

We don't know what the next week will bring but hope it will be a good one for all you folks. Take care.

Notes from Adult & Community Education

The SAD #44 Adult and Community Education program is proud to announce the awarding of the GED diplomas to Ken Koskelo of Woodstock, and to Michael Gray of Burnham, and Tim Douglas of Norway, members of the Maine National Guard unit in Norway. Koskelo prepared for the GED test at the Adult Learning Center at the Woodstock Elementary School under the instruction of Rodney Abbott.

Gray and Douglas are participants in a special statewide cooperative effort linking the Maine National Guard and the Department of Educational and Cultural Services which provides GED testing for guard members and their families on drill weekends. SAD #44 Adult and Community Education Director Cathy Newell and SAD #17 Adult Basic Education Coordinator Nora Fitzgerald conducted a GED clinic at the armory on Feb. 7 and 8, at which time Gray and Douglas passed the GED. Ms. Fitzgerald has arranged with the cooperation of Cpl. Eric Storck of the guard, for a special GED preparation class to be held weekly at the armory, to assist other members of the guard in the GED process. Additional GED weekend sessions have been scheduled for the Norway and Rumford armories on drill weekends in the coming months.

Mrs. Newell stated that GED preparation and testing opportunities are available on an on-going basis through the local adult education programs in SAD #44, SAD #17, and at NOVA in Rumford. Testing is also given at Dixfield and Rumford high schools. Information on all adult education opportunities is available through the Adult Learning Opportunities Hotline, 1-800-822-5455, or by contacting local adult education offices.

RADON WORKSHOP IN AUGUSTA
Maine homeowners, contractors, and building professionals who are interested in stopping radon from entering buildings can attend a one-day workshop in Augusta, featuring two nationally known experts on radon testing and mitigation techniques.

The State Office of Energy Resources and the Maine Lung Association, which are co-sponsoring the event, announced that there are still places available in the workshop. It will be held Saturday, Feb. 28, at the Augusta Civic Center. The fee is $30. To register, call Danuta Fishman, at 774-4293, or Marshall Burk, at 622-6394.

Locke Mills

By LORRAINE MILLS

The Greenwood Historical Society will meet Wednesday, March 4, at 7:30 p.m. The Greenwood Fire Department will meet Tuesday, March 3, at 7 p.m. at the fire station.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Swan, Jr. and Todd have moved to the basement apartment of Sylvia and Leland Dunham's until their mobile home is ready in the spring. They have sold their home on the East Bethel Road to Tony Chapman of Bethel. Silver Leamon has been ill with pneumonia.

Marilyn Van Horn, Mark and Andrew, and Cindy Brown, Patrick and Christopher, of Mexico, visited Lorraine Mills Wednesday afternoon.

Charlotte Cole visited her cousin, Herman Cole, in North Woodstock, Tuesday afternoon. Sunday she visited Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brooks and Bertha Benoit, at West Paris. Bertha is recovering from a stroke at the Brooks home. Charlotte also visited Burton and Dennise Cole at their home in North Paris and took goodies and a birthday card to Dennise, who had a birthday last week.

The Greenwood Fire Department met for a training session Tuesday evening at the fire station. A report detailing last year's fires in the state was issued. It was interesting to note that 1986 had the lowest number of fire-related fatalities in Maine since these records have been available. One hopes people are learning to be more careful.

John Mills was in Mexico Friday night for a meeting of the Trailblazers, a division of the Royal Rangers, at the Praise Assembly of God.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar A. Rainey and family have purchased the Rudy Royer place, in Greenwood Center, and have moved in.

Vi Churchill, formerly of Locke Mills, was visiting her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Krason, in Lewiston, when she lost consciousness and was rushed by ambulance to CMMC, where she is still a patient and is undergoing tests. When she is discharged she will convalesce at the home of Mrs. Krason.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Best, Eric and Heather, who have been living in Burton Cole's house in Greenwood Center, have purchased it.

Mr. and Mrs. Val Greene, Massachusetts, are at their home on Howe Hill this week and are entertaining visitors.

After spending nearly two weeks flat on my back your correspondent was in

FRANKLIN GRANGE

Franklin Grange met Monday night, Feb. 16, for a historical and valentine meeting combined. There were 23 present, two children; and David and Fred Murphy, from Gorham, as visitors.

Being a cold night, it kept some at home. However it was a good meeting. Dot Canwell, who has been playing for us, was unable to come because of the serious illness of her mother who is in the Norway hospital and is very low. Other sick members were Esther Pierce, who broke her arm in a fall; Bertha Benoit, who is recovering from a stroke, and Harry Boyer, who has had a hip installed.

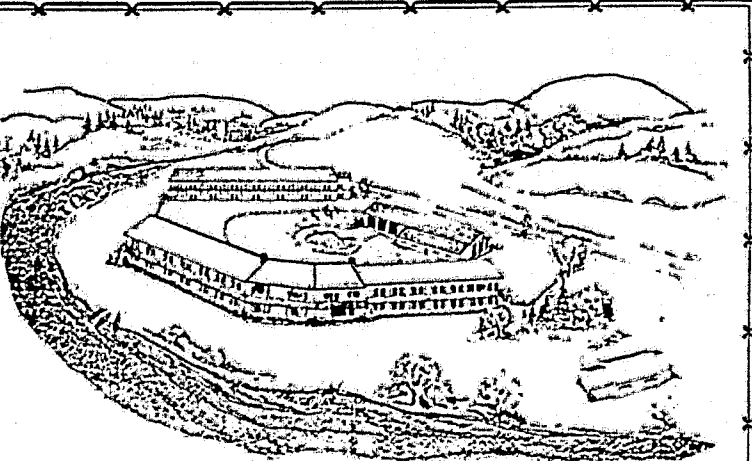

The program was singing, "God Bless America"; original poem, "Winter of 1987," by Oliver Davis; historic men in Woodstock by Larry Billings, which was very interesting; patriotic readings by Lettie Brooks, Charlotte Cole, Larry Billings, Alice Hoyt, Richard Felt, and Olive Davis; a short valentine poem, original by the lecturer; "What is Valentine's Day," Mary Billings; valentines were exchanged and read by each recipient; valentine mystery packages were drawn; closing thought, "Friendship is an asset that can be obtained by first giving it"; song, "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

The next meeting is an agricultural program by this committee, Harris Hathaway, Carl Brooks, and Richard Felt, on March 16.

Norway to Dr. Smith Saturday and he says I can get up and around but no lifting, etc., etc. Apparently I have either a slipped disc or a pinched nerve and have a good case of sciatica. It certainly came as a shock to me when I went for a routine check-up to Dr. Lacombe and mentioned I had a pain in my side and he told me to go home and lie flat on my back for at least a week. At my age aches and pains are a way of life so I couldn't see why he was taking this one so seriously but I had lost a reflex in my lower right leg and it got him shook. Dr. Smith said I could live quite a while without a reflex! Now that is what I like to hear! Something else may take me but it apparently isn't going to be loss of a reflex. My sister-in-law, Carolyn Colby, (got the name right this week, Cal), Gerry Shimamura, and Vera Cross have been helping with housework, meals, and mail. It's great to live in Maine where neighbors still help neighbors. Hope we never lose that.

You've tried the rest,
now try the best!

My Trip to New York

One day my family and I were going to New York. We had to stop along the way because we had the dog with us. The first morning we had breakfast in Quechee. There was a neat museum there with old-fashioned gadgets. In Quechee there is a gorge called Quechee Gorge. We looked down into the gorge from the bridge. We finally got to New York. It was about 6:00 at night when we arrived at my grandparents. The next day we went to Uncle Luke's house. I played some football with my cousins. After that we went to a man's house that he was building. It was really well made. When we left we went back to my dad's parents. We slept there for the night. My grandfather, Artie, gave me an airplane. It was a P14. My mom's dad flew one of those. Last time I went to New York I got a Challenger spacecraft. The next day was Thanksgiving. All of my thirteen cousins were there. We taped some video Disney movies. Some of my uncles played basketball. After that we had dinner with everyone. The day was not over yet! That evening we went to see my 102-year-old great-grandma and we had supper with her. Then we went over to my mom's parents. We had our Christmas party that night because we would not be there on Christmas. I got an airplane glider, some new skiing socks, army pants, and some other toys. That night we got ready to go home. The next morning we left. On the way home we stopped back at the museum in Quechee and at a clock museum in New Hampshire. It was an exciting week!

The Messy Room

"Jill Marie Olson, pick up that room of yours right now!"
"But mom..."
"No buts. Joel Michael is in your room."
"He's the one who made it a mess—you have him pick up my room."
"Get in there!"
So she did. But Jill did not see Joel. She ran downstairs to tell her mom. But her mom would not listen. "Are you trying to have me come help you pick up your room?" her mother asked. "Go back to your room!" Jill went back up and looked for him under her bed but he was not there. She looked for him under her pile of underwear and shirts on the floor—he was not there, either. She couldn't find him anywhere.
"Mom, where is Joel?"
Her mom came upstairs with Joel in her arms.
"Joel was in the trash. You did tell the truth. I'll help you pick up your room."
You don't have to—it's all picked up."
"So it is!"
She gave Jill a hug.

Valentine's Day
I got out of bed. And mother said, "Trov do you know what today is?"
"No," I said. "What?"
She said, "Valentine's Day. Whoopie!"
She said, "You have a big party at school!"
"Oh yeah."
Then I had the best breakfast. I had three pieces of toast and two pancakes, and a glass of orange juice. Then I went to school.

The Adventures of Bumper and Family

One day an Axolotl was swimming happily in a pool in Mexico. Suddenly the water in the pool started vibrating. The Axolotl tried to squeeze under a rock, but suddenly he found himself in the hands of man. Soon he found himself on his way to a pet store in Oxford, Maine. After a while he was swimming in a fish tank in Oxford, Maine. Meanwhile, Mrs. Wheeler was relaxing at home and eating chocolate cake, and thinking about what a good class she had; she must have forgotten about Josh, Zach, Nate and Damin.
"I think I will buy them a pet," she thought. So she got into her little green Volkswagen with her two sons, Little Johnny and Joe Schmoe, and started off to the pet store in Oxford.
Mrs. Wheeler and her sons arrived at the pet store around 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon. Mrs. Wheeler took Johnny and Joe by the hand while they entered the pet store. Soon Joe started to get restless; then he saw a big brown dog.
"I want him mamma, I want him!" said Joe.
"We don't have enough money for the dog," said Mrs. Wheeler.
"But mamma, I want him," said Joe. He then proceeded to kick his mother soundly in the shins. She screamed so loud that all the glass in the fish tanks broke. Joe jumped on the big dog's back and began riding all around the pet store. An old lady slipped on a fish and got her head stuck in an ant farm. The ants started to crawl all over her. By the time Joe was done the pet store was in a shambles.
The pet store owner came over to Mrs. Wheeler and said, "I should make you pay for the fish," he said, and he did. Mrs. Wheeler paid for the fish and an Axolotl she wanted and started to go out the door, when suddenly the owner said, "That lady over there must have ants in her pants!"
"Oh, she does, she does," said Joe.
On the way home, Mrs. Wheeler bought Johnny a big red balloon. When Joe didn't get a balloon he picked up a pin and popped the balloon. Mrs. Wheeler was so startled that she ran into another car. After she paid the owner of the car, Mrs. Wheeler arrived home and put the Axolotl in a tank.
And so ends the first part of "Bumper and Family."
Note: There is also a moral to this story. If you are a little kid and you are bored, then you can have a little fun making some excitement of your own.

The Hippopotatapatapuse

I was in my laboratory, approximately one week ago, when I spotted a glass jar on one of my experimenting shelves. I dumped some of the powder type of stuff into a box that was insulated with a plastic bag. It made lots of particles and I poured some heavy descriptive chemicals that appeared to be green liquid into the powder. It made more thick toumille particles.
"It sure does stink," said professor Incomep as he walked through the door. "What are you making?" he asked. I replied, "I am not making anything. I'm experimenting," I told him.
All of a sudden there was a ball of smoke in the air. I looked in the box and out popped a hippopotatapatapuse.

My Friend Jodi and I (Part 1)

A long time ago there were two friends called Jodi and Jennie. They were very poor. All they had was an old cow and a jar of beans.
One day there was just one bean left in the jar. "We are down to our last bean," said Jodi.
"I hate beans," said Jennie.
"Beans are better than nothing," said Jodi.
"What do we eat now?" asked Jennie. "I'm hungry."
So Jodi went off with the cow. She was going to sell the cow and buy some food. "Remember," called Jennie, "no beans."
On her way to town Jodi met an old woman. "I'll trade you three beans for that cow," said the old woman.
"Beans for a cow," said Jodi. "Never."
These are not just any beans," said the old woman. "They are magic beans."
Now Jodi would never have traded the cow for just any beans. But magic beans were different.
So Jodi took them and gave her the cow. When Jodi got back, Jennie was ready to eat and eat. Jodi showed her the three beans. "Beans," cried Jennie.
"But they are magic beans," Jodi said.
"I told you I hate beans," said Jennie and she threw them out the window.

How "Howler the Wolf" Got His Name

Once upon a time, during a long cold winter, lived a gray wolf. This wolf did not have a name and every night went hunting. He never felt good about the way he hunted. He could find tracks in the snow and had keen ears even when the powerful wind blew.
But one day he had an idea. The snow was falling and it was a beautiful day. His idea was to give a fair warning to his prey. So, one cold night, he howled. It was very scary for all the little people of the green meadows. Then he went off to hunt.
After that cold windy night, he always remembered to howl before he went hunting and by-and-by he finally got his name, "Howler the Wolf."

My Baby and I

One day my baby doll Adrienne and I were walking around the block and Adrienne saw a bunny. We stopped and she played with the bunny. I told her we had to go but she cried and cried.
So I said, "Okay—we'll stay a little while longer."
She kept on playing with the bunny and I fell asleep. Soon my mom came looking for me. She finally found us but she had lost her way home. She woke me up and told me that she was lost. We started walking.
I ran over to get her but she was gone! We started hunting for her. An hour passed and still no sign of her. Another hour passed. Finally we saw her! She was riding on the bunny.
I called, "Come along!"
She started crying.
Then I said, "You can bring the bunny!"
The bunny hopped straight to our house and we lived happily ever after.

The First Day of Winter

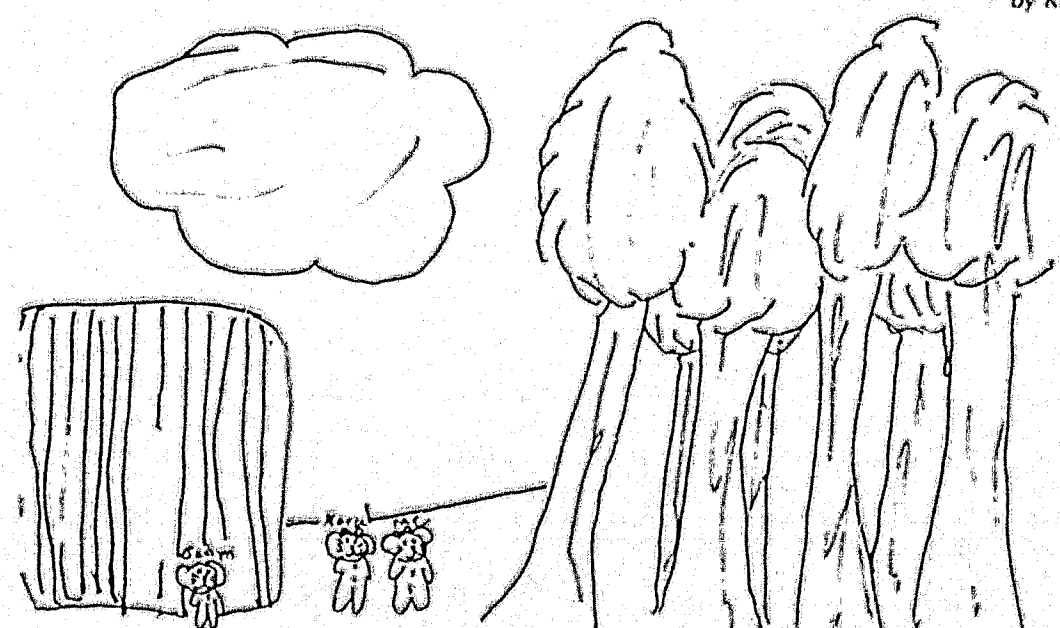

Mother fox opened the door and said, "Brr! The first snow of the year is coming!"
Sure enough, the next morning snow was on the ground and plunking off the trees with a soft whoosh! Mother fox's four children: Nelly, Harry, Peter and Mary, all whooped with delight. Mother fox said they all could go out after breakfast.
So, after chicken broth, with blobs of lard floating in it, the children put on frog-leather boots, woven dried grass coats and snowpants with partridge feathers on the cuffs and hoods, and red mittens, scarves, and hats.
Outside the den, the children scampered here and there, sometimes on two legs sometimes on four. Soon, Harry and Peter were on the warpath. Nelly helped Peter make a snowfort and some snowballs while Mary helped Harry. Five minutes later the boys were throwing snowballs with all their might. About an hour later Peter finally crashed through Harry's snowfort and smashed it to pieces.
Just as they finished making snow angels, they heard Farmer Grey's lunch horn. In they trooped—hot, breathless and snow-covered. For lunch they had chicken dumplings, pickled partridge tongues, raw eggs, rabbit stew, and for dessert creamy fresh milk with strawberries and blueberries floating in it.
After lunch Mother sat and knitted in her rocking chair. Peter and Harry decided to play with their Matchwood Splinters while Nelly and Mary practiced on the piano. In this way they passed their evening.
At about 6:00 p.m., mother made supper, which was turkey, hardboiled eggs, and raw eggs. After supper the children went obediently to bed. All night they dreamed about what they had done that day. The first days of winter had begun!

The Three Little Bears

Once upon a time there were three little koala bears. Their names were Jaclyn, Koral, and Knsten. They lived in a zoo called the Field Top Zoo.
They wanted to run away. They didn't know how to get out of their cage. They had to figure out how to get out. Then Koral looked over to one of the corners of their cage. She saw a hacksaw.
Koral yelled, "Hey, look—there's a hacksaw!"
Knsten said, "Let me get it. Maybe I can get us out of here while the zookeeper is sleeping."
"Probably the man that fixes the cages left it here," said Jaclyn.
Knsten started sawing the bar. Then all of a sudden the bar split right in half. The hole was big enough so that they could slip out.
They ran into the woods and made their new home in a grove of eucalyptus trees. That night the zookeeper saw that the bears were gone.
He said, "Oh, who cares. They didn't do anything anyway."
The bears lived happily ever after in their new home!

Tri-Town Rescue At Andover...

Tri-Town wishes Richard Walker, the service's treasurer, a speedy recovery. He is currently at Maine Medical Center in Portland.

Outstanding service awards made this year were presented to Harry and Grace Archer for ambulance personnel and to Lillian Herick for auxiliary work. This week the column will highlight the work of Harry and Grace. Next week will focus on the work of Lillian.

Harry Archer joined Tri-Town two years ago as a driver. Since that time he and his wife, Grace, trained to become ambulance attendants. They are both taking the EMT course in Bethel, to be completed sometime in the spring.

In addition to the many hours of duty, they both have worked hard with various other assorted jobs. Harry has given many hours of work in the new ambulance barn and with vehicle repair. They always say "yes" to the pre-arranged transfer. Harry is the search and rescue training officer. Harry also serves on the Woodstock Fire Department.

Training this month is a practical review of bleeding and bandaging. All types of wounds will be demonstrated. This meeting is scheduled for tonight (Feb. 25) at 7 p.m. at the Ledgewood Memorial Home, West Paris.

The auxiliary will meet March 4 at the Bethel Savings Bank branch in West Paris at 7 p.m. New members are always welcome.

Thought for the Day

There are two kinds of people on earth; the people who lift and the people who lean.

Vatchers saw a man go by leading a brown and black work horse and a gray horse. Maybe he had a woods job somewhere nearby. We don't see many sights like that now days.

Mrs. Shirley Bonney has returned home from Stephens Memorial Hospital where she had been several days.

The school vacation period was ideal in every way and we all cheered for the Buckfield Bucks and were glad they beat Gould Academy. We cheer for our nearest neighbors always.

By COLISTA MORGAN

The storms we have never affect us twice alike. Each seemed to have its own manner of approach. One may be short, sharp or high keyed. One may be sudden while another may creep in slowly sending clouds across the sun while the light grows thin and pale. There can be a moment of breathless pause, then borne on the wind come the flakes of snow. It accumulates. The growing darkness changes things and by morning we are blanketed again.

Through the night the wind howled and grew more intense. All day long after sun-up it kept up its howl. At times it seemed to come to a few minutes of calm then swirled the snow making it almost impossible to see far.

We certainly didn't need this, but here in the wide open spaces we were more fortunate than in the more populated places.

The whiteness was broken by the green of pines and firs or the dark masses of hard wood. They held their heads high and proud in the sun, nodding or bending low.

Under the clean white blanket of awesome winter I thought of the wonders just waiting for the big change—spring!

I was called to the hospital Friday the 13th because my youngest brother had suffered a coronary heart attack. He will be taken to Portland today, the 14th, for heart surgery on Monday. He is the third in our family to have heart valve transplants. My brother Fred and his wife took me to Lewiston.

I met with the T.T. Club on Wednesday. We had lunch together in Norway then met at the home of Doris Slattery, in West Paris.

'KITCHEN TABLE MEETINGS' THIS WEEK IN SOUTH PARIS

During the week of Feb. 23 to 27, the Oxford County Soil and Water Conservation District in conjunction with the Androscoggin and Sandy River Valleys Agricultural Viability Project will be sponsoring "Kitchen Table Meetings" as part of the regional focus on agriculture.

The meetings are being held to debate the major issues and commodities that have surfaced to date, reflecting the concerns and opportunities of area agriculture. The meetings will also examine any other issues raised. Any person interested in attending is invited to attend any of the meetings. The meetings are scheduled each day during the week from 10 a.m. to noon. They are being held at the Agricultural Service Center in South Paris. My Trip to New York

One day my family and I were going to New York. We had to stop along the way because we had the dog with us.

The first morning we had breakfast in Quechee. There was a neat museum there with old-fashioned gadgets. In Quechee there is a gorge called Quechee Gorge. We looked down into the gorge from the bridge.

We finally got to New York. It was about 6:00 at night when we arrived at my grandparents.

The next day we went to Uncle Luke's house. I played some football with my cousins. After that we went to a man's house that he was building. It was really well made.

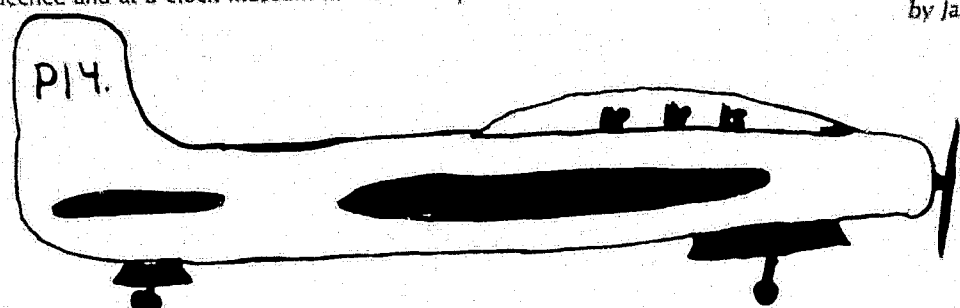

When we left we went back to my dad's parents. We slept there for the night. My grandfather, Artie, gave me an airplane. It was a P14. My mom's dad flew one of those. Last time I went to New York I got a Challenger spacecraft.

The next day was Thanksgiving. All of my thirteen cousins were there. We taped some video Disney movies. Some of my uncles played basketball. After that we had dinner with everyone. The day was not over yet!

That evening we went to see my 102-year-old great-grandma and we had supper with her. Then we went over to my mom's parents. We had our Christmas party that night because we would not be there on Christmas. I got an airplane glider, some new skiing socks, army pants, and some other toys.

That night we got ready to go home. The next morning we left. On the way home we stopped back at the museum in Quechee and at a clock museum in New Hampshire. It was an exciting week!

The Messy Room

"Jill Marie Olson, pick up that room of yours right now!"

"But mom."

"No buts, Joel Michael is in your room."

"He's the one who made it a mess—you have him pick up my room."

"Get in there!"

So she did. But Jill did not see Joel. She ran downstairs to tell her mom. But her mom would not listen.

"Are you trying to have me come help you pick up your room?" her mother asked. "Go back to your room!"

Jill went back up and looked for him under her bed but he was not there. She looked for him under her pile of underwear and shirts on the floor—he was not there, either. She couldn't find him anywhere.

"Mom, where is Joel?"

Her mom came upstairs with Joel in her arms.

"Joel was in the trash. You did tell the truth. I'll help you pick up your room."

"You don't have to—it's all picked up."

"So it is!"

She gave Jill a hug.

Cats

I have an orange cat. His name is Leo. He sleeps with me.

My brother and my sister have a cat, too. My brother's cat is Giggers.

Giggers is black and white.

My sister's cat is Banjo. Banjo is grey and white.

The Squirrel

I have a little squirrel that comes to see me every day. We give him nuts and other things. He wakes me up in the morning.

I give him a tiny apple, then a tiny glass of milk.

I don't know what to write. I'm bored. I am throwing pencils.

The end

Valentine's Day

I got out of bed. And mother said, "Troy do you know what today is?"

"No," I said. "What?"

She said, "Valentine's Day. Whoopie!"

She said, "You have a big party at school!"

"Oh yeah."

Then I had the best breakfast. I had three pieces of toast and two pancakes, and a glass of orange juice.

Then I went to school.

The Adventures of Bumper and Family

One day an Axolotl was swimming happily in a pool in Mexico. Suddenly the water in the pool started vibrating. The Axolotl tried to squeeze under a rock, but suddenly he found himself in the hands of man. Soon he found himself on his way to a pet store in Oxford, Maine. After a while he was swimming in a fish tank in Oxford, Maine.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Wheeler was relaxing at home and eating chocolate cake, and thinking about what a good class she had; she must have forgotten about Josh, Zach, Nate and Darin.

"I think I will buy them a pet," she thought. So she got into her little green Volkswagen with her two sons, Little Johnny and Joe Schmo, and started off to the pet store in Oxford.

Mrs. Wheeler and her sons arrived at the pet store around 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon. Mrs. Wheeler took Johnny and Joe by the hand while they entered the pet store. Soon Joe started to get restless; then he saw a big brown dog.

"I want him mamma, I want him!" said Joe.

"We don't have enough money for the dog," said Mrs. Wheeler.

"But mamma, I want him," said Joe. He then proceeded to kick his mother soundly in the shins. She screamed so loud that all the glass in the fish tanks broke. Joe jumped on the big dog's back and began riding all around the pet store. An old lady slipped on a fish and got her head stuck in an ant farm. The ants started to crawl all over her. By the time Joe was done the pet store was in a shambles.

The pet store owner came over to Mrs. Wheeler and said, "I should make you pay for the fish," he said, and he did. Mrs. Wheeler paid for the fish and an Axolotl she wanted and started to go out the door, when suddenly the owner said, "That lady over there must have ants in her pants!"

"Oh, she does, she does," said Joe.

On the way home, Mrs. Wheeler bought Johnny a big red balloon. When Joe didn't get a balloon he picked up a pin and popped the balloon. Mrs. Wheeler was so startled that she ran into another car. After she paid the owner of the car, Mrs. Wheeler arrived home and put the Axolotl in a tank.

And so ends the first part of "Bumper and Family."

Note: There is also a moral to this story. If you are a little kid and you are bored, then you can have a little fun making some excitement of your own.

The Hippopotatapus

I was in my laboratory, approximately one week ago, when I spotted a glass red jar on one of my experimenting shelves. I dumped some of the powder type of stuff into a box that was insulated with a plastic bag. It made lots of particles and I poured some heavy descriptive chemicals that appeared to be green liquid into the powder. It made more thick tourmille particles.

"It sure does stink," said professor Incomp as he walked through the door. "What are you making?" he asked. I replied, "I am not making anything. I'm experimenting," I told him.

All of a sudden there was a ball of smoke in the air. I looked in the box and out popped a hippopotatapus.

My Bratty Brother

Hi, my name is Amy Lord. I have a little brother. He's a brat. His name is Johnny, and he loves balloons. You will now find out about him.

One day, about in the middle of the year, I had a friend over. Her name was Lorie Bennett, and she had a younger brother, too. His name was Josh. She said he's a pest.

One day Lorie and I were going to go to the movies to watch the "Gremlins." Our parents said we had to take the boys with us. But then we would have to watch the "Gummie Bears." Lorie and I just hate cartoons. We argued over an hour that we did not want to take those brats to the movies with us. Our parents said that they would follow us after we were gone five minutes. So we agreed to take the boys with us. So then we had to watch the "Gummie Bears," and the next day we saw the "Gremlins."

The Day My Cat Died

(A true story)

On Thursday, January 15, 1987, as I met my mom in the truck after Girl Scouts, she told me the awful news. My cat, Kitty, had gotten hit by a car.

I couldn't believe it! My good old Kitty being hit by a car!

"No!" I thought. "How can Kitty be dead?"

I went home, and my dad told me it was true. I was so sad!

I went out to see my other cat, Pearl, who usually doesn't let me pet her. She seemed to know something was wrong, and this time she did let me pet her.

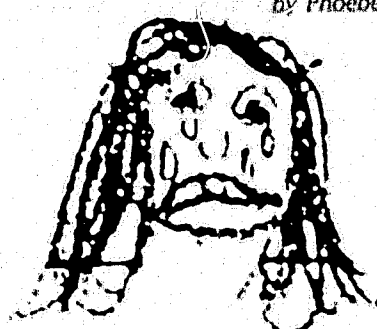

The next day, Friday, after school, I went down the road to see if I could find where my dad had buried her.

I finally found a path going into the woods from the side of the road. I followed it into the woods. After a while, I came into a clearing in the woods. So I started to dig. I finally found him, but he was frozen; dead.

I cried, silently, over him, and lifted him out of his grave and hugged him. Then I reburied him.

I was really sad.

My Friends and I

My friends and I have fun all the time. We go over to each other's house and have slumber parties. But sometimes we get in fights. But we apologize and we are friends again. That's my friends and I.

How "Howler the Wolf" Got His Name

Once upon a time, during a long cold winter, lived a gray wolf. This wolf did not have a name and every night went hunting. He never felt good about the way he hunted. He could find tracks in the snow and had keen ears even when the powerful wind blew.

But one day he had an idea. The snow was falling and it was a beautiful day. His idea was to give a fair warning to his prey. So, one cold night, he howled. It was very scary for all the little people of the green meadows. Then he went off to hunt.

After that cold windy night, he always remembered to howl before he went hunting and by-and-by he finally got his name, "Howler the Wolf."

My Baby and I

One day my baby doll Adrienne and I were walking around the block and Adrienne saw a bunny. We stopped and she played with the bunny. I told her we had to go but she cried and cried.

So I said, "Okay—we'll stay a little while longer."

She kept on playing with the bunny and I fell asleep. Soon my mom came looking for me. She finally found us but she had lost her way home. She woke me up and told me that she was lost. We started walking.

"Oh dear," I said. "I left Adrienne back in the bushes over there."

I ran over to get her but she was gone! We started hunting for her. An hour passed and still no sign of her.

Another hour passed. Finally we saw her! She was riding on the bunny.

I called, "Come along!"

She started crying.

Then I said, "You can bring the bunny!"

The bunny hopped straight to our house and we lived happily ever after.

The First Day of Winter

Mother fox opened the door and said, "Bird! The first snow of the year is coming."

Sure enough, the next morning snow was on the ground and plunking off the trees with a soft whoosh! Mother fox's four children: Nelly, Harry, Peter and Marry, all whooped with delight. Mother fox said they all could go out after breakfast.

So, after chicken broth, with blobs of lard floating in it, the children put on frog-leather boots, woven dried grass coats and snowpants with partridge feathers on the cuffs and hoods, and red mittens, scarves, and hats.

Outside the den, the children scampered here and there, sometimes on two legs sometimes on four. Soon, Harry and Peter were on the warpath. Nelly helped Peter make a snowfort and some snowballs while Marry helped Harry Five minutes later the boys were throwing snowballs with all their might. About an hour later Peter finally crashed through Harry's snowfort and smashed it to pieces.

Just as they finished making snow angels, they heard Farmer Grey's lunch horn. In they trooped—hot, breathless and snow-covered. For lunch they had chicken dumplings, pickled partridge tongues, raw eggs, rabbit stew, and for dessert creamy fresh milk with strawberries and blueberries floating in it.

After lunch Mother sat and knitted in her rocking chair. Peter and Harry decided to play with their Matchwood Splinters while Marry and Nelly practiced on the piano. In this way they passed their evening.

At about 6:00 p.m., mother made supper, which was turkey, hardboiled eggs, and raw eggs. After supper the children went obediently to bed. All night they dreamed about what they had done that day. The first days of winter had begun!

The Three Little Bears

Once upon a time there were three little koala bears. Their names were Jaclyn, Koral, and Kristen. They lived in a zoo called the Field Top Zoo.

They wanted to run away. They didn't know how to get out of their cage. They had to figure out how to get out. Then Koral looked over to one of the corners of their cage. She saw a hacksaw.

Koral yelled, "Hey, look—there's a hacksaw!"

Kristen said, "Let me get it. Maybe I can get us out of here while the zookeeper is sleeping."

"Probably the man that fixes the cages left it here," said Jaclyn.

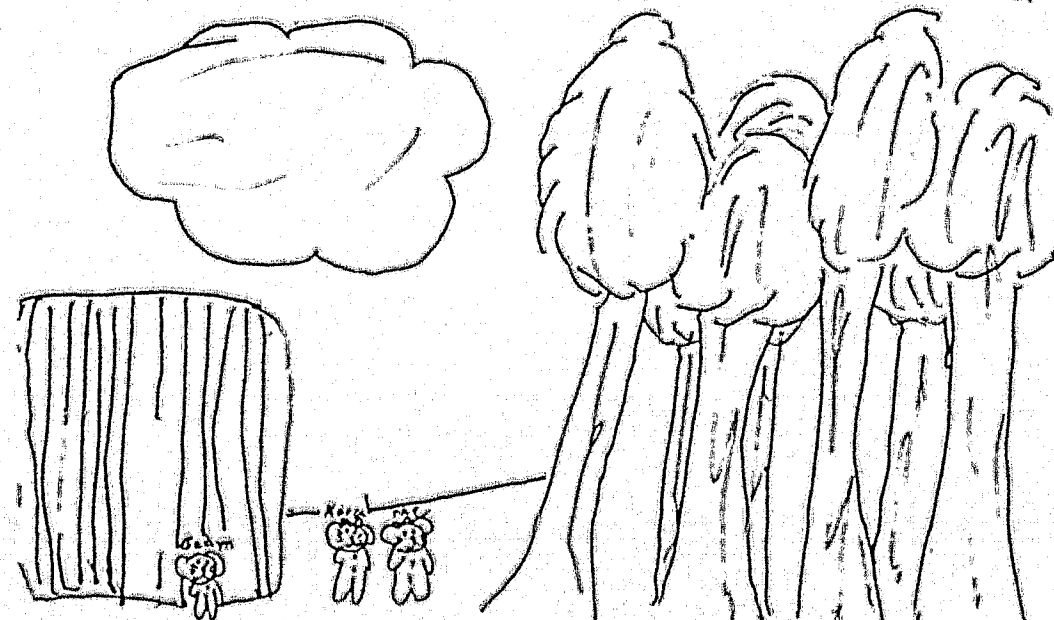

Kristen started sawing the bar. Then all of a sudden the bar split right in half. The hole was big enough so that they could slip out.

They ran into the woods and made their new home in a grove of eucalyptus trees. That night the zookeeper saw that the bears were gone.

He said, "Oh, who cares. They didn't do anything anyway."

The bears lived happily ever after in their new home!

Tri-Town Rescue At Andover...

Tri-Town wishes Richard Walker, the service's treasurer, a speedy recovery. He is currently at Maine Medical Center in Portland.

Outstanding service awards made this year were presented to Harry and Grace Archer for ambulance personnel and to Lillian Herrick for auxiliary work. This week the column will highlight the work of Harry and Grace. Next week will focus on the work of Lillian.

Harry Archer joined Tri-Town two years ago as a driver. Since that time he and his wife, Grace, trained to become ambulance attendants. They are both taking the EMT course in Bethel, to be completed sometime in the spring.

In addition to the many hours of duty, they both have worked hard with various other assorted jobs. Harry has given many hours of work in the new ambulance barn and with vehicle repair. They always say "yes" to the pre-arranged transfer. Harry is the search and rescue training officer. Harry also serves on the Woodstock Fire Department.

Training this month is a practical review of bleeding and bandaging. All types of wounds will be demonstrated. This meeting is scheduled for tonight (Feb. 25) at 7 p.m. at the Ledgerview Memorial Home, West Paris.

The auxiliary will meet March 4 at the Bethel Savings Bank branch in West Paris at 7 p.m. New members are always welcome.

Thought for the Day
There are two kinds of people on earth; the people who lift and the people who lean.

Vatchers saw a man go by leading a brown and black work horse and a gray horse. Maybe he had a woods job somewhere nearby. We don't see many sights like that now days.

Mrs. Shirley Bonnes has returned home from Stephens Memorial Hospital where she had been several days.

The school vacation period was ideal in every way and we all cheered for the Buckfield Bucks and were glad they beat Gould Academy. We cheer for our nearest neighbors always.

The storms we have never affect us twice alike. Each seemed to have its own manner of approach. One may be short, sharp or high keyed. One may be sudden while another may creep in slowly sending clouds across the sun while the light grows thin and pale. There can be a moment of breathless pause, then borne on the wind come the flakes of snow. It accumulates. The growing darkness changes things and by morning we are blanketed again.

Through the night the wind howled and grew more intense. All day long after sun-up it kept up its howl. At times it seemed to come to a few minutes of calm then swirled the snow making it almost impossible to see far.

We certainly didn't need this, but here in the wide open spaces we were more fortunate than in the more populated places.

The whiteness was broken by the green of pines and firs or the dark masses of hard wood. They held their heads high and proud in the sun, nodding or bending low.

Under the clean white blanket of awesome winter I thought of the wonders just waiting for the big change—spring!

I was called to the hospital Friday the 13th because my youngest brother had suffered a coronary heart attack. He will be taken to Portland today, the 14th, for heart surgery on Monday. He is the third in our family to have heart valve transplants. My brother Fred and his wife look me to Lewiston.

I met with the T.T. Club on Wednesday. We had lunch together in Norway then met at the home of Doris Slattery, in West Paris.

'KITCHEN TABLE MEETINGS' THIS WEEK IN SOUTH PARIS

During the week of Feb. 23 to 27, the Oxford County Soil and Water Conservation District in conjunction with the Androscoggin and Sandy River Valleys Agricultural Viability Project will be sponsoring "Kitchen Table Meetings" as part of the regional focus on agriculture.

The meetings are being held to debate the major issues and commodities that have surfaced to date, reflecting the concerns and opportunities of area agriculture. The meetings will also examine any other issues raised. Any person interested in attending is invited to attend any of the meetings. The meetings are scheduled each day during the week from 10 a.m. to noon. They are being held at the Agricultural Service Center in South Paris. For more information contact the Oxford County District Office at 743-7019.

Newry

By AMY HANSOM

The ladies who went bowling Feb. 8 included Thelma Lowery, Betsy Clark, Ben Lowell, Olive Anderson, Gil Sealey and June Swan. Jennifer and Crystal Strait, of Bethel, Vt., granddaughters of June and Lee Swan, were guests. Also a guest was Rena Powers, of Newry. Mrs. Lowery won honors as both single and triple high scorer. They all enjoyed lunch and shopping.

Newry Church Ladies Circle will meet March 3 at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Sylvia Harrington.

The town clerk would like to remind Newry residents that dog licenses were due and payable Jan. 1, 1987. As of Feb. 12 there were a total of 84 dogs left unlicensed. To avoid fines for late payments she would suggest that you make an effort to get your licenses, being sure to have a rabies certificate that is up to date, and neutering or spaying certificate.

Wednesday, Feb. 11, June Swan attended the final Ride In '87 Committee meeting to finalize plans. She would like to report that a profit of over $500 was realized from the Schooner Fare concert in spite of poor conditions. Snowmobile races will be held at Worthington Pond on Feb. 28 and March 1. A dance will be held at The Eagles on Feb. 28—with a country-western band providing the music. All proceeds go to the O.C.A.R.C. (Ride In '87). Feb. 22 was the Ride In to the OK Corral in Roxbury, with snowmobilers and cross country skiers congregating there for a lunch, awards and entertainment. This was a big event for the clients of the home. The sponsors would like to take this opportunity to thank all the businesses, clubs, organizations and individuals for making this a real good year. Anyone wishing to donate for the cause may call June or Lee Swan at 824-2124.

FREE FOOD DISTRIBUTION IN BETHEL THURSDAY, FEB. 26

In cooperation with the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Oxford County Community Services will distribute cheese, rice, butter, and powdered milk on Thursday, Feb. 26 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the American Legion Hall on Vernon Street, Bethel.

Families meeting income guidelines will include households eligible under the following programs: Home Energy Assistance (HEAP), Elderly Tax and Rent Refunds, Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC), Food Stamps, Elderly Drug Card, Medicaid Card or Supplemental Security Income (SSI).

A family of two or less will receive one pound of butter, five pounds of processed cheese, two pounds of rice and four pounds of powdered milk. Families of three or four members will receive one pound of butter, 10 pounds of cheese, four pounds of rice and eight pounds of powdered milk. Larger families will receive increased amounts of cheese, rice and milk. The food supplies come from surplus storage of the U.S. government.

The homebound may have a relative or friend pick up for them.

OCCS will also distribute food under the program at the armory in Rumford on Thursday, Feb. 26; elderly and handicapped only from 9 to 11 a.m., and all eligible residents from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Free food was distributed in Norway and Fryeburg on Tuesday, Feb. 24.

Mr. Owen's combined time for the three heats was 2 minutes 28.05 seconds. The winning time of East Germany's Rene Friedl was 2:21.57. The fastest American time was recorded by Duncan Kennedy, of Lake Placid, N.Y., who finished 10th.

This was Mr. Owen's first ranked international competition.

For more information on these and other job openings contact your local Job Service Office at 35 Congress Street, Rumford.

JOHN M. ALLEN Sr.

John M. Allen Sr. of West Paris died Friday, Feb. 20, 1987, at the Stephens Memorial Hospital in Norway. He was born in Mt. Vernon Aug. 1, 1883, the son of Fred and Ada Shaw Allen. He attended school in Vienna and graduated from Mt. Vernon High School in 1911. He attended Colby College in Waterville. A resident of West Paris since 1912, Mr. Allen married Nellie M. Lander in June of 1965. He was a mechanical engineer, draftsman, design engineer and inventor, who designed many types of specialized machinery for the woodworking industry.

As a young man, Mr. Allen began work as a machinist at Madison and later worked for Arthur Rackliff of Allens Mills, where he built his first automation machine. He later owned and operated a shaver mill in Vienna. Then he operated the Fred Greenwood Machine Shop in Farmington, where he developed the first steel frame roller saw. He worked for Diamond Match Co. in Dixfield and left there to work for the Lawrence Plywood Co. in Carraway, where he designed a very successful clean plywood machine. Mr. Allen moved to West Paris in 1929 and was foreman of the E.L. Tibbets Spool Co. at Locke Mills. He was then employed by Penley Brothers of West Paris until 1937, when he went to work for Penley Manufacturing Co. in Strong. For a year he was at the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard in Kittery, and then returned to E.L. Tibbets Spool Co. Mr. Allen operated his own farm in West Paris from 1942 to 1945 when he went to Calais, working for the Deed River Co. While there, he built a double end clothespin machine. He later designed a grapple and log loader for Weyerhaeuser Timber Co. on Longview, Wash. Mr. Allen returned to the Penley Manufacturing Co. in 1947, where he was in charge of the drafting department. Mr. Allen designed several types of machines for the manufacturing of clothespins and toothpicks for that company. He later returned to the Diamond Match Co. in Dixfield as a draftsman and developed a tongue blade wrapping machine. From 1950 until his retirement, he was employed at the Penley Corporation in West Paris.

Mr. Allen was a member of the Ring-McKeon Post #491, American Legion, the Vernon Valley Lodge #99 AF&AM of Mt. Vernon, and the Granite Chapter of Eastern Star at West Paris. He was a former member of Yvonne Lodge #46 & 8 of Farmington. Survivors include his wife, Nellie of West Paris; two sons, Daniel C. of Saco and John M. Allen II of Uxbridge, Conn.; five daughters, Mrs. Esther Jean and Mrs. Gladys (Joie) Lavesque, both of Lewiston, Mrs. June Keith of Goulet, Fla., Mrs. Shirley Keener of Clearwater, Fla., and Mrs. Sandra James of Uxbridge, Conn.; 27 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren. He was predeceased by a daughter, Mrs. Anita Ruggero, who died in 1971.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the Andrews Funeral Home, South Woodstock with Joe Perham officiating. Entombment was at the Riverside Receiving Vault with burial in the spring at the Riverside Annex Cemetery, South Paris.

IOLA C. FORBES

Iola C. Forbes of Bethel died unexpectedly Monday, Feb. 23, 1987, at the Stephens Memorial Hospital in Norway, where she had been a patient a day. Born at Sumner, Oct. 17, 1902, she was the daughter of Walter M. and Mary Mayhew Chandler. She received her education in Sumner and West Paris schools, graduating from West Paris High School in 1922. She taught school in Sumner and Newry prior to her marriage to A. Daniel Forbes on Sept. 2, 1925. Mr. Forbes died Jan. 19, 1978. Mrs. Forbes was a homemaker and also worked as a seamstress in her home for many years. She was a charter member of the Mount Allen Unit, American Legion Auxiliary, and a member of World War I Barracks Auxiliary. She was a golden sheet member of Pleasant Pond Grange of West Sumner, having joined more than 70 years ago. She was a former member of the Farm Bureau Extension of Bethel, and a member of the West Parish Congregational Church in Bethel.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Frank (Barbara) Lowell of Newry; two sisters, Mrs. Ruby Emery of Bryant Pond and Mrs. Annie Carey of South Paris; four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. Funeral services will be held at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the Greenwood Funeral Home with Rev. Brendon Bass officiating.

Donations may be made in Mrs. Forbes' memory to the Bethel Ambulance, c/o Mary Buckman, R.R. #1 Box 1255, Bethel, Maine 04217.

Girl Scouts prepare for 75th anniversary

The service team of the Tetlar Association of the Kennebec Girl Scout Council met Feb. 11, at the Mexico Congregational Church. Attending from the local area were Cindy Blake, of Bethel, Leslie Cooley, of Bethel, Jane Chandler, of Bryant Pond, and Debra Swan and Donna Worcester, of Hallowell.

March 8 will be Girl Scout Sunday, and all scouts are encouraged to attend church in uniform. March 12 the Promise Circle will be held at Rumford High School, beginning at 8:15 p.m. Each troop is to bring a day cake and bring the troop flag. This is the official 75th birthday of Girl Scouting in this country. Girls all across the country will be saying the Girl Scout Promise exactly at 4 p.m.

PHILLIP H. FAUDI

Phillip H. Faudt of Bethel died Saturday afternoon, Feb. 21, 1987, at the Lodgeview Memorial Home in West Paris.

He was born at Paris, Texas, Sept. 28, 1905, the son of Jacob and Olga Wolf Faudt. He attended schools in Marlin, Texas, and graduated from Madison College in Tennessee. He graduated from Palmer School of Chiropractic in Davenport, Iowa, and had his own practice in Berlin, N.H., in 1961. He was a registered nurse at Beth Israel Hospital in New York, and later worked at Rumford Community Hospital and at the Barren Center in Portland, retiring in 1971.

Mr. Faudt was a member of the Bethel Senior Citizens, the Oxford County Senior Citizens, Woodstock Senior Citizens, the Mount Abram Fish and Game Association, and attended the Woodstock Seventh-day Adventist Church.

He had made his home in Bethel since 1961, coming from Portland. Mr. Faudt served with the U.S. Army during World War II. He was married to Muriel Boyker in 1942.

Survivors include his wife of Bethel; a son, Phillip C. Faudt of Turner; a daughter, Mrs. Robert (Stephanie) Gimes of Paris Hill; a brother, Marvin of Waco, Texas; two sisters, Mrs. Alice Cross and Mrs. James (Lydia) Roberts, both of Waco, Texas; and two granddaughters.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Greenwood Funeral Home in Bethel. Interment was at Brooklawn Memorial Park, Portland.

Donations in Mr. Faudt's memory may be made to the Bethel Methodist Church Building Fund, in care of Sarah Stevens, Bethel, Maine 04217.

Two area families qualify for national finals in ski competition
Peter and Sara Kelley, of Bethel, and Mark and Cindy Heibert, of West Paris, have made it to the finals in the 11th Equitable Family Ski Challenge. The skiing families will get an expense-paid trip to Vail, Colo., for the national finals, to be held March 20-30.

Competing in the northeast regional meet, at Cannon Mountain, N.H., last week, the Kelleys won the father-daughter event, while the Heiberts won the husband-wife event. The regional winners will compete against the winners of the seven other regions in the final. The competition is sponsored by The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States.

Marine Lance Cpl. Michael S. Verrill, son of Harold S. and Betty M. Verrill of Bryant Pond, has been promoted to his present rank while serving at the Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, N.C. A 1985 graduate of Tetlar Regional High School, he joined the Marine Corps in November of 1985.

BETHEL LIBRARIAN BETSY RAYMOND picks a winner for "A Classic Weekend for Two in Bethel" last Friday. The holder of the winning ticket was Tommy Hanahan, a professor at UMO. He purchased his raffle ticket at Mother's Restaurant. Assisting Ms. Raymond at the drawing, held in the library, were Cathy Newell, president of the Library Association, and Sue O'Donnell, chairman of the fund-raising committee. The "classic weekend" will be March 6, 7, 8 for the winner, who said he's "wildly excited" about coming for the all-expense-paid weekend. His winning ticket was one of 197 purchased. The classic weekend includes bed and breakfast at the Hammons House and the Four Seasons Inn, skiing at Sunday River and Mt. Abram, dining at Saturday's, The Bethel Inn, and Mothers', and receiving a picnic lunch from Miller's Inn & Bakery plus a pottery gift from Bonanza Pottery.

Woodstock teachers sponsor Valentine dance for students

Over 30 fifth and sixth graders returned to the Woodstock Elementary School on Friday evening, Feb. 13, to participate in a Valentine dance planned for them by the staff of the Woodstock school.

The children danced to the songs of today's top artists and participated in dance contests and trivia challenges in an effort to win free records from guest deejay, Principal David "Woo-Woo" Murphy.

Chaperones included staff members, Christopher Szente, Naomi Lary, Jolene Shumura, Robin Dempsey, Marie Hickey, Wanda Johnson, and Jacqueline Morin. Refreshments were provided by the parents, and the stereo and records were provided by Nancy Cross and Doreen Benson.

Winners of free records included Nathan Cliskey, Doug Korkela, Jonathan McGurn, Devin Benson and Betsy Johnson.

Snowmobile trail closure

The State of Maine, Bureau of Parks, and Recreation, and the U.S. Forest Service, White Mountain National Forest, have announced the closing of a portion of the snowmobile trail which is located on the Evans Niche Ranger District in the western part of Oxford County.

The portion of the trail affected is that portion of State Route #13 which goes through the geographical feature known as "Evans Niche." Heavy snow falls and periods of high winds have caused severe drifting on a half mile stretch of trail. Equipment used to groom the trail does not have the capability of moving the snow due to the depth and hardness of the drifts. Attempts to reopen the trail later in the winter may be made if warm weather softens the snow.

The portion of the trail from Evans Niche north to the Maine/Stew Hampshire state line and the Wild River Road will remain open but will not be groomed. The trail from Evans Niche south to Greenleaf Valley and east to Crocker Pond in Albany Township will continue to be groomed for the rest of the season.

For further information on the trail and their condition contact the Snowmobile Division of the Bureau of Parks and Recreation at 207-265-3821, or the Evans Niche Ranger District, White Mountain National Forest at 207-824-2334.
